THE EQUESTRIAN TEAM ABROAD

A fortnight ago a small group of horses and men flew across the Atlantic to represent the United States at a series of horse shows in England and on the continent. According to European standards all the horses are relatively green. So is one of the four riders, while the others have had varying degrees of experience in competition of this kind. To most of the crowds abroad who see them compete it will seem strange that the richest country in the world, which contains more horses ridden for sport than any other, should not be able to muster a top international team. Furthermore to many at home it will seem strange that, since this is the best we can do, we should want to send such a team to represent this country.

Why can the less affluent countries of Europe with much smaller populations, both equine and human, produce superior equestrian teams? In countries such as Spain, which continue to maintain cavalry regiments, the answer is obvious. But what about the countries which, like the United States, have to rely on civilians. For the answers we have to go deeper and into more detail. In general continental riding has few cross country aspects. There is almost no foxhunting and stag hunting is carried on in walled forests. The European peasant (and landowner too, for that matter) takes a dim view of casual riding across his land. Riding for sport is thus channeled into the show ring.

Whereas in America a young man has to work in order to justify his existence, in Britain and the continent a life devoted wholly to sport seems the most natural and desirable career—a fact which provides ample numbers of amateur and therefore eligible contestants. In Anglo-Saxon countries we pay income taxes; in European countries many rich people do not. In consequence, although our national income is much greater, our young men have to work harder since it is so much more difficult to accumulate capital.

With equestrian effort directed toward the show ring, with considerable numbers of young men and women who devote all their energies to riding, and with plenty of money available, the price of a top international horse is much greater; $28,000 was offered for White Sable last summer when it became known that Shirley Thomas of Canada was giving up international competition. For this sort of money superior horses with superior training are bound to be produced.

Last, but not least, British and continental riders are within easy vanning distance, practically every week-end during the season, of shows with international courses and conditions. In this country we can count the outdoor shows offering such courses on the fingers of one hand. Only at three indoor shows with restricted ring space do our riders have an opportunity to engage in international competition.

There remains the question, why, then, do we send a team at all? Just because organising a team is hard is no reason why we should give up; we are sending what we can. Because the courses and competition essential to training the team are not to be had at home, we are sending our riders and horses abroad where they are to be found. As a matter of international good will we can, in fact, do no less. Since Helsinki in the summer of 1952, the last time we sent a team abroad, the teams of England, Ireland, France, Germany and Spain have visited this country; a return visit is certainly overdue.

In the light of the above the reasons for the recent flight are plain enough. We are confident that our equestrian ambassadors will do us credit.

"Phoney" Thoroughbreds

Dear Sirs:

I was very much interested in the article in your last issue when you remarked on the fact that the first three colts in the half-bred yearling class at the Blue Ridge Horse Show were won by the get of "Kiev's Umber."

However, in the same paragraph you stated that the first two prizes in the half-bred class at Upperville were won by the get of Preisrichter. If you will look back in your records you will see that similar prizes were won in by-gone years by another so-called "liberated" German horse called Nordlicht. These horses are Thoroughbred horses. Nordlicht has already been admitted to the book and Preisrichter's get are allowed to race.

When you breed these high-class horses to Thoroughbred mares you produce an animal which should be either shown with Thoroughbreds or not at all. Certainly not in half-bred classes. The point I am trying to make is that there should be a rule standing that a half-bred is a horse "by a Thoroughbred stallion, out of a non-registered mare". This would settle the whole argument and encourage the owner of the true half-bred to show his horses in half-bred classes where he had some chance of winning. After all, the half-breed is the backbone of the hunter's stock of America and the more you can encourage people to show their products the better for hunter breeding. As long as they know that they will run up against "phoney" Thoroughbreds they

In the cellar of the Pennsylvania Station in New York City, you will find the Long Island Railroad. From this subterranean core unravel threads of transportation that take horse-players to Aqueduct, Belmont and Jamaica, fishermen to Montauk Point and people home.

For travelers who think they know where they want to go, but don't know how to get there, there is an "Information" booth. Attendants in this department spend their lives telling people, "For Island Park, you take track sixteen," "No ma'am, Yonkers is the other way," and "Just around that corner and through the barber shop."

Railroads have found that there is a lot more to operation than merely running trains and collecting fares.

There must be a liaison between potential rider and transportation medium, and there must be someone to take the customer's hand and lead him to the right conveyance, interpret time tables and put him straight when the change-over is made from Standard to Daylight Time.

Department stores have similar problems and so do all other enterprises that deal directly with that mixed up little clique generally referred to as "the public."

Take racetracks, for instance. Every day at every track there are problems and at the root, always, is a paying customer.

There was the lady whose car was stolen from the parking lot. She had driven out, she said, in a Chrysler convertible and it was gone when she went to look for it after the races.

A helpful track official looked over the lot, when most of the patrons had left, and there wasn't a Chrysler convertible in sight.

The lady was rather disturbed and the official, still being helpful, called her home to report the difficulty and have the insurance agent notified promptly. The lady sat nervously biting her nails and waiting as the call went through.

The young woman's father answered. He just laughed.

"Tell her," he said, "her Chrysler's here. She took my Cadillac this morning."

The helpful official and the lady looked and there was a Cadillac in the parking area.

On July 8, 1954, Rex Ellsworth's Swaps was entered, with his stablemate, Bequeath, in the Charles S. Howard Stakes at Hollywood Park. Swaps "showed nothing" according to the chart caller, and finished, fifth in the six-horse field. The only one he beat was Bequeath, which "was through early."

The entry was held at 9.95 to 1, longest price on the board. Colonel Mack, the 1-to-2 choice, was the winner; Mr. Sullivan was the second.

Since that date, one year ago, Swaps has been out eight times, with his races carefully spaced, and has won all of them. He rested for six months after he "showed nothing," and began his winning streak on December 30.

He showed plenty in every subsequent test.

The Westerner, at Hollywood, July 9, provided an excellent 1 1/4-mile workout which paid Mr. Ellsworth $34,700, making $349,900 he has received from Swaps' operations.

The three-year-old son of *Khaled—Iron Reward, by *Beau Pere, galloped the ten furlongs in 2:00 1/5—four-fifths slower than Noor's record—with Shoemaker holding all the way.

Bequeath had been entered, but Mr. Ellsworth felt that, somehow, Swaps would win it without help, and charitably let somebody else have a run for the $10,000 second money. That sum went to E. F. Smith, owner of Fabulous Vegas. Jean's Joe took third prize, $7,500, and Hickory Stick earned $5,000 for finishing fourth.

The only horse in the race that didn't win a nickel was Brooksickle, because they don't pay fifth money at Hollywood. Brooksickle was a supplementary (at $2,500), as the stable felt there was a good chance of picking up one of the lesser awards.

Of the $192,093 betting pool, $157,034 was wagered on the winner. He paid $2.10, and there was no minus pool.

There was only win betting.

If by some miracle, Brooksickle, the second choice, had won, the payoff on him would have been $22.10. If a super miracle had occurred that caused Hickory Stick to get home first, his mutuels price would have been $115.30.

Witnesses declared that Swaps did it so easily that his brilliant time seemed unbelievable. Only by watching the floundering "rivals" in his wake could the performance of the great colt be appreciated.

The glide-striding chestnut was ten lengths on top of the eighth pole. Shoemaker managed to slow him down enough to make it six at the wire—hoping for a better price next time, no doubt.

The Westerner goes into the bag with the Santa Anita and Kentucky Derbies, the San Vicente Stakes, the Will Rogers Memorial Handicap and the Californian.

King Ranch's High Gun racked up another grand victory when he carried 132 pounds to register in the 67th running of the Brooklyn Handicap. The four-year-old son of *Heliopolis—Rocket Gun, by Brazado, led all the way and won the mile-and-a-quarter test easily, by 3 1/2 lengths.

Paper Tiger nosed out Straight Face for second place. Galdar was third, 12 lengths farther back.

With win and place betting, High Gun paid a generous $3.00 and $2.40.

The race was worth $37,900 which puts the winner at $78,400 for the season. He has won 2 and been second in 1 of his 4 races. Last season, he took 6 of 14, was second 3 times and third in 4 races. He earned $314,550.

Max Hirsch trains High Gun. Arcaro usually rides him.

The Carter Handicap, July 4, brought together High Gun and Helioscope in what was expected to be a sprint championship affair. (It is a seven-furlong race.) Each carried 133 pounds and gave from ten to 25 pounds to the 12 other members of the field.

Few of their adversaries were given much chance, but five of 'em finished in front of High Gun and more than that before Helioscope. High Gun was the favorite, Helioscope second choice.

I Appeal dashed off in front, with Dark Peter, Blessbul and Tahiti conspicuous in the early running. The speedsters began to tire coming around the bend, and Bobby Brocato raced past horses to be about a length in front at the eighth pole. I Appeal and Tahiti dropped back, while Social Outcast and Artismo came on.

At the wire, it was Bobby Brocato by a length over Social Outcast, with Artismo another length back in third place. Count Turf was fourth. The winner paid $39.40.

High Gun reared at the start, but came on well after he got his feet under him. At the end, he was but four lengths off the leader. Helioscope raced wide all the way. But what can a horse do in a seven-furlong race when he breaks from post position No. 12?

Bobby Brocato brought in $43,000 for owner J. W. Brown. This puts his 1955 earnings at $85,500. He shows 3 wins, 6 seconds and 1 third in 13 tries.

He won the Paumanok in April.

A dark bay colt, four year old, Bobby Brocato is by Natchez, from the Brown King mare, Dorothy Brown. Mrs. J. W. Brown bred him.

J. B. Teall trains for Brown.

Ray Broussard is Bobby Brocato's regular rider.

Favored at 35 to 100 in the betting, Lily-Ann Stable's Getthere Jack collected first prize in the Great American (July 6) by getting to the top and staying there to the end. He was 1½ lengths ahead of Reneged at the payoff mark. Another length back came Bob-O-Bob, which held third place over Jean Baptiste by a neck. It was the first time any youngster in the race had essayed six furlongs.

Earlier, Getthere Jack accounted for the Gulfstream Dinner Stakes, the Gulfstream Juvenile and the Tremont. He has started 10 times, won 8 races, been second once and third once. With the $13,100 taken down in the Great American, the two-year-old gelding has total earnings of $53,175.

By Bimelech—By Sea, by Pompey, Getthere Jack was bred by Whitney Stone. J. J. Weipert trains him.

Hedley Woodhouse had the ride in the Great American.

Monmouth Park

Decathlon knocked over a track record and ran his unbeaten string to 5 races when he whipped Nan's Mink by three-quarters of a length in the Tyro, on July 4.

Despite his unblemished mark, the son of Olympia (from Dog Blessed, by *Bull Dog) was no better than co-second choice in the wagering. Needles was the favorite of the multitude at 2.30 to 1, while Decathlon was held at 2.70, as was Besomer.

Decathlon carried 122 pounds, giving seven or more pounds to the other members of his field. He sped the 5½ furlongs of the Tyro in 1:04 flat, lopping four-fifths of a second off the figure hung up by Macbeth in 1947.

The Narragansett Nursery and the Bay State Kindergarten fell to Decathlon before his Monmouth Park win.

Some interest went out of the Tyro when Polly's Jet, another undefeated colt, was declared.

Decathlon belongs to the River Divide Farm of R. J. Dienst. Nuckles Brothers bred him.

R. T. Shepp trains the River Divide horses and G. R. Martin rides most of them.

With Delaware Park closed and the mares looking for somewhere to go, a dozen of them showed up at Monmouth for the Molly Pitcher.

Misty Morn, the three-year-old that took the Providence when Saratoga lost interest, was made the favorite over her older sisters, and won in clever style. Under Sam Boumetis, she whipped Clear Dawn by three-quarters of a length, with Manotick, another three-year-old, missing second money by a nose. Mabeky was fourth.

The $21,650 she earned gives Misty Morn $58,550 for this year. She has won 5 of her 11 starts and has been second twice.

Owned and bred by the Wheatley Stable, the filly is by *Princequillo—Grey Flight, by *Mahmoud.

Jim Fitzsimmons trains her.

Arlington Park

Helen A. Platt of New York and M. A. Waldheim of St. Louis are partners in a paying proposition. They own Judy Rullah, and Judy Rullah does nothing but win. Her fourth straight came in the Arlington Lassie on July 9, and the $57,335 first prize gives the share holders a total of $73,260 (less expenses) to whack up when meloncutting time arrives.

The daughter of *Nasrullah—Judy Rae, by *Beau Pere has won 4 for 4 now, the Pollyanna among them.

Guard Rail was second and Waikiki third in the six-furlong race.

Bwamazon Farm (the racing establishment of Platt and Waldheim) bred the filly.

S. Griffin trains. Dave Erb had the mount on Judy Rullah in the Lassie.

Just to show that his triumph in the Armour Memorial was no fluke, Mark-Ye-Well came back on the Fourth of Continued On Page 33

Fulton Wins The Forget Hurdle 'Cap In Exciting Close Up Finish

Spectator

In an exciting finish Sanford Stud Farm's Fulton gained a neck decision over Mrs. M. G. Walsh's Rythminhim in the $10,000 added two mile Forget Hurdle Handicap on Thursday, July 7th.

The Forget was the last of Aqueduct's four feature jumping events during the summer meeting, and was a closely contested race all the way, with the issue in doubt right up to the wire. Seven horses went postward, and George Cassidy wheeled them off to a good start with Mielaison getting to the front approaching the first turn. Maintaining this position, the Dixon horse continued to lead his field with just about daylight in between Permian & Fulton. The balance ran well bunched behind these with hardly a half a dozen lengths from first to last. Mrs. Anson Bigelow's *Par Amour, which captured the Amagansett a week previous bobbed at the third, and when the field moved by the stands the second time, at the sixth hurdle, another bobble which practically saw *Par Amour's nose on the ground, caused Scottie Schulhofer to do a tantalizing slow motion slip from the saddle. A cry of disappointment went up from the crowd at this point for *Par Amour was sent off favored at little less than two to one. Around the clubhouse turn the second time, Mielaison continued to set the pace. Permian was a close up second with Curly Joe and Fulton next and Rythminhim and *Camee bringing up the rear some five or six lengths off the leader. Going down the far side the last time, it was still anybody's race as Foot on *Camee and P. Smithwick on Rythminhim moved forward to make a tight knot of six racing for the final turn. At this turn, Mielaison increased his lead slightly and momentarily gave the impression that under his light weight of 130 lbs. he would draw away from his pursuers. Rounding into the stretch and running for the second from the last hurdle, five of the six took this jump as a team. Behind them, *Camee with Albert Foot in the saddle, appeared full of run, but a solid phalanx of horses were in front of him. Over this hurdle and in the run to the final, the race narrowed slightly. Permian and Curly Joe gave way, while Fulton and Rythminhim drove for the jump, and drew out slightly. Taking this fence as a team, the Walsh jumper bobbed slightly and lost about half a length. Both riders had gone to the whip, and a driving slashing finish, Adams on the inside shifted to a hand ride to get under the wire just about a neck in front of Smithwick on Rythminhim. The latter had tended to lug in the stretch run, and Smithwick had used his whip left-handedly. Apparently causing Adams to lose his whip. Six lengths further back, Mielaison hung on for third, while *Camee passed tired horses to garner a minor award a length and a half further back.

In the Forget, Fulton carried 146 lbs., 2 less than in the Amagansett when he was out of the money, but he evidently fancied the extra quarter mile, and completed the distance over a rain softened course in 3:39 1/4, two and three fifths seconds off the record. Fulton, now an eight-year-old, won this same race when he was four, and on that occasion took 3:40 1/2 to do the job. Dooley Adams, Oneida was kept close to the pace set by Lucky Trine in the early stages of the race, then went to the top of Irish Pageant rounding the last turn, and won by two. The runner-up was Ring o'Roses, winner of his previous two starts under claiming conditions, and a sharp contender in this race, but not kes at Saratoga and will probably be sent over brush again at that meeting.

An interesting sidelight of the Forget was that trainer, Hollie Hughes put in a scratch the morning of the race—the reason—he appeared overmatched at the weights! Fortunately, the Stewards declined to accept the scratch because of the size of the field.

The day before Hollie Hughes sent out Sanford Stud Farm's Oneida to score in a mile and a half hurdle race run under allowance conditions. Ridden by Dooley Adams, Oneida was kept close to the pace set by Lucky Trine in the early stages of the race, then went to the top of Irish Pageant rounding the last turn, and won by two. The runner-up was Ring o'Roses, winner of his previous two starts under claiming conditions, and a sharp contender in this race, but not

Genesee Valley Stallion

Centime, a 5-year-old chestnut son of Pavot—Copper Jade, by St. James arrived at the Lookover Stallion Station, Avon, N. Y., July 4th.

The new stallion was bred by Dr. & Mrs. Frank Porter Miller of California, and was sold at Saratoga as a yearling to William Goadby Lowe. He was raced by Mr. Lowe at two, winning three races, and placing second three times out of six starts. His victories included Delaware Park's Christiana Stakes.

—M. K.

Impressive Whirlaway

Kurun, a 3-year-old by the American sire Whirlaway out of the Oaks winner Asmena, by Goya, from the famous Astronomie, by Asterus, was very impressive in his first outing as a 3-year-old, winning over eight highly regarded sophmores, in the Produce Stakes Prix Daru at Longchamp. He is owned by M. Boussac, and was the winner of his only race as a 2-year-old. He went into the French Derby as a favorite, but was beaten by Count F. de Ganay's Rapace and edged out of place position by Beignet. Kurun is expected to play a feature role in the 3-year-old ranks in France, during the rest of the season.

Belmont Figures

The Belmont spring meeting, which closed last Saturday, presented steeplechasers with a $163,700 total in purses, one of the highest in recent years.

Leading the 'chasers in money won at Belmont was Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Neji with $19,130. The five-year-old chestnut gelding took down $14,650 with his victory in the International Steeplechase on May 21.

In second place was another jumper from Mrs. Phipps' stable, Ancestor, with a total of $14,825 in purses as the result of two firsts and two seconds in his four races at Belmont. Mrs. Phipps was steeplechasing's owner of the year in 1954. Her jumpers are trained by her brother, George H. "Pete" Bostwick.

Third among the jumpers in money won at the Elmont, Long Island track was Mrs. Marion duPont Scott's leading money winner of the year in 1954, Shipboard, who has $13,975 for his two wins so far. Shipboard won the Corinthian and Meadow Brook Steeplechases but unseated his rider while challenging for the lead in the rich International.

Rounding out the five were: Prince Regent, owned by Happy Hill Farm, won his two Belmont starts for purses totalling $10,180. He won the National Maiden Hurdles on May 19. Carafar, owner by John M. Schiff, won his only two starts for $9,675. He won the Spring Maiden Steeplechase at Belmont on May 26.

Half Sisters Show Good Form For American Owner

Mr. R. S. Clark has a useful filly in the 3-year-old Bright Circlet, for she won three times last season & recorded her second victory this term when she took the Great Central Handicap at Haydock Park, a race run over mile worth 1,700 dollars to the winner.

By Derby winner Nimbus, she is out of the Mahmoud mare Sugar Bun, who had another runner in an earlier race on the same day when her two-year-old daughter Sweetcake finished third. She too is by a Derby winner in Blue Peter.

Both fillies should make valuable additions to their owner's stud in due course, for they descend from Galaday II, ancestress of Never Say Die. Mr. Clark also has a chestnut yearling filly from Sugar Bun by Solar Slipper, who is the sire of Panaslipper, winner of this year's Irish Derby & second to Phil Drake at Epsom.

—P. T-C.

Another Winner for Mr. Jock Whitney

Following the recent victory of Playroom, trainer Gerald Balding saddled another winner for Mr. Whitney on the 25th of June when the 3-year-old Clear River won the 5 furlong Municipal Handicap Plate at Doncaster carrying top weight of 125 lbs.

By Aberrant out of the Fair Trial mare Fairbourne, he is a half-brother to two

Pirate Gold and Foal

Nick Saegmuller, Field Secretary of the Virginia Horsemen's Assn., Inc., has forwarded to The Chronicle, a photograph of a mare and a foal, owned by Dr. F. A. Howard of Warrenton, Virginia, together with the following statement by Dr. Howard:

"Pirate Gold was sick in Oct. 1954 with strangles, she carried a high fever for seven days, and ruptured under the throat. She was treated with antibiotics, she recovered on the tenth day and was normal for a period of two weeks. Then she started to run a fever of 105 and went off feed, after five days she went down and stayed down for seven days in the stall, when I fed her intravenously and watered her with stomach tube. She lost about 300 lbs. in weight. After seven days we got her on her feet and she ate very little hay and no grain for ten days, then we got her to take some sweet feed and she came on from there, and started to put on weight.

PIRATE GOLD, by Snark—Big Wager and her chestnut colt by Sophocles. She was bred on May 8 and 9 of 1954 and the foal arrived on June 14 of 1955, after a 13 month and 5 days gestation period. The foal was 2 days old when the picture was taken.

"Her colt is over two weeks old now and is doing very well. I believe her long gestation period was due to her sickness. She was a mare that had silent heat periods and was bred on a speculum examination, therefore there could not have been a mistake in her breeding dates. This was her first foal."

Cavalcade's Shoe "Found"

A horseshoe worn by Cavalcade when he won the 1934 Kentucky Derby was "found" hanging over the main entrance to Louisville's Police Court last week by officials inspecting remodeling work. The long-forgotten shoe was inscribed with a tribute to the late Judge John B. Brachey, whose "Nine-and-nineteen" policy—nine days in jail and a $19 fine for drunken drivers—made him nationally famous.

Veteran Court Stenographer James Warren recalled that a delegation of horsemen had presented the shoe to Judge Brachey several weeks after the 1934 Derby. Presumably it had been hanging unnoticed over the door ever since.

Officials plan to offer it to one of the Judge's relatives if the remodeling necessitates its removal.

—Frank Talmade Phelps

Tulyar's Half-Brother Wins

Until the First Newmarket July Meeting, the 3-year-old grey colt Cobetto was still a maiden & had shown none of the merit of his illustrious half-brother Tulyar.

Then he was brought over from France to win the Princess of Wales Stakes worth 7,500 dollars in fluent style by 2 lengths, though he did not appear to be greatly fancied as neither owner Prince Aly Khan nor trainer Alec Head came to the course. This is the most valuable race yet won by any of the produce of Migoli.

The success will be the more interesting to American readers as Mrs. Eleanora Sears bought Tulyar's four-year-old own-brother Tarjoman & his yearling half-brother Tudorka last year for a figure reputed to be $150,000 dollars & for 75,000 dollars respectively. Neocracy's yearling colt was included in the draft recently purchased by Ralph Lowe's syndicate from H. H. Aga Khan & is also now in the United States.

Incidentally Andromeda, who is the only daughter of Neocracy, recently foaled a three-parts brother-in-blood to Tulyar. The produce is a bay colt & she returns to Tehran.

KENTUCKY

Mr. Good to Patchen Wilkes

Karl L. Martin's Mr. Good, winner of the 1952 Arlington Futurity, will enter stud next spring at Mrs. Joe Goodwin's Patchen Wilkes Farm, Lexington. Mr. Martin will breed ten of his own mares to the stallion.

The son of Easy Mon—Grim and Gay, by Zacawesta, was named for the late John M. Goode, who selected the colt out of the Keeneland Fall Sales consignment of William H. Veeneman on behalf of Mr. Martin and W. N. McKinney. Bought for $7,300, the colt earned $100,675 at two. Leg trouble hampered him thereafter, and he did not race at three or four.

Courtney's Colt

W. H. Courtney, Lexington banker-breeder, and his son, Robert E. Courtney, will sell half brother, by Mount Marcy, to the record-matchers Chuck Thompson and Miss Jato at Keeneland.

Another Claiborne Double

Stallions standing at A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Farm, Paris, scored another stakes double on recent Saturday.

At Aqueduct, *Nasrullah's son, Nashua loafed to a five-length decision over another offspring of a Claiborne sire, Saratoga, by the now retired *Blenheim II, in the betless $50,000-added Dwyer Stakes.

At Monmouth Park on the same day, Claiborne's own Doubledogdare, by Double Jay, scored by three lengths in the $20,000-added Colleen Stakes.

Hedgewood Yearlings

Charles A. Asbury, owner of Hedgewood Farm, Lexington, and his son, Tommy Asbury, have consigned to the Keeneland Summer Sales two Brookfield colts, sons of Bolero and County Delight, and fillies by Devil Diver and Revoked.

One of the Brookfield colts is a half brother to Syracuse Lad, and the Devil Diver filly is a half sister to Nola Hash.

Judy Rullah's Half Brother

A half brother, by Coaltown, to Judy Rullah, the *Nasrullah filly who recently gained her third straight victory in the $15,000-added Pollyanna Stakes at Arlington Park, is among the yearlings consigned to the Keeneland Summer Sales by Milton A. Waldheim's Bwamazon Farm, Inc., Winchester. The dam, Judy-Rae, who has also produced the stakes-placed Rae's Reward, set a new Santa Anita Park record of :52% in the 4½ furlong Anita Chiquita Stakes. A 100% producer, Judy-Rae is a half sister to Betty Sweep and Iron Maiden, the latter dam of Trentonian, and granddam of Swaps and Like Magic.

Hagyard Yearlings

Dr. Charles E. Hagyard, Lexington veterinarian-breeder, has consigned to Keeneland two colts by Free for All and a son of *Big Dipper II.

The latter is a half brother to Unbridled.

Stephenson Filly

Edward L. Stephenson, New York breeder, has consigned a full sister to Jumbo to the Keeneland Summer Sales.

Leslie Combs II's Spendthrift Farm, Lexington, Ky., is preparing this daughter of Menow for her auction appearance.

Palmeadow Yearlings

Kellar M. and W. Paul Little's Palmeadow Stock Farms, Lexington, will sell at Keeneland a colt and filly by Errard; sons of Bolero, Challenge Me and My Request; and a daughter of Mighty Story.

Four of the six Palmeadow yearlings are half brothers or sisters to stakes-placed horses.

Evan's Colt

A. R. Evans, Danville breeder, will offer at Keeneland a Ky. Colonel colt, the first foal of the Rose Leaves Stakes winner Evanstep.

B. M. Browning's Brownwood Farm, Nicholasville, is preparing this colt for his auction appearance.

Brownwood Yearlings

B. M. Browning's Brownwood Farm, Nicholasville, will sell at Keeneland an Easy Mon colt and a *Royal Gem II filly.

A highlight of the 1955 Monmouth Charity ball, July 30, will be the auctioning of this Thoroughbred yearling filly of top breeding and conformation. The identity of this "Mystery Miss" will be kept secret until the night of the ball when final bids will be accepted. Written bids for this filly can be mailed until midnight July 27 in care of Mrs. Higgins, Monmouth Park Jockey Club.

Robertson Colt

Harris Robertson, a member of the staff at A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Farm, Paris, will sell a Black Tarquin colt at Keeneland.

Woodsacres Yearlings

E. D. Axton's Woodsacres Farm, Prospect, has consigned to the Keeneland Summer Sales a yearling colt and filly by Be Fleet, a son of *Royal Gem II and a daughter of Count Fleet.

The Be Fleet filly is a half sister to Jerry's Gem.

Star Rover's Half Brother

Irving Gushen has a yearling half brother, by Mount Marcy, to Star Rover, the *Flushing II colt who recently won the $20,000-added Select and Lamplighter Handicaps, at Douglas M. Davis, Jr.'s High Hope Farm, Versailles, where the President of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association boards his mares. Mount Marcy and *Flushing II are both sons of *Mahmoud.

Hamburg Additions

Caddis F. Morris, owner of Hamburg Place, Lexington, is looking forward to the addition of a new stallion and a new farm manager at almost the same time.

Our Love, a son of *Nasrullah—Glen Line, by Blue Peter, is expected shortly at Hamburg Place from England to take up stud duties. Victor in the Spring Hall Stakes, he is a full brother to the stakes winner Cassydora; and a half brother to King of the Tudors and to the 2,000 Guineas captor of this season Our Babu.

On August 1, Steve H. Black will take over as Manager of Hamburg Place. He previously managed his father's Silver Lake Farm, Frankfort; and for the past four years has looked after A. F. Wall's Lismore Farm, Lexington.

Lucky Accident

When a yearling gets hurt just before his auction engagement, the owner generally regards the accident as a misfortune. But Edwin D. Axton, owner of Woodsacres Farm, Prospect, has decided that it was lucky for him when his half brother, by *Royal Gem II, to the Rosedale Stakes winner Bank Account ran through a plank fence and gashed his shoulder two days before his engagement in the 1954 Keeneland Summer Sales.

After the injury had healed, Mr. Axton sold a half interest in the colt privately to Nick Burger. Named Doc Eggers after Trainer Burger's family physician, Dr. Hiram E. Eggers of Louisville, the colt recently gained his third victory in four starts in the $15,000-added Primer Stakes at Arlington Park.

Incidentally, Warner L. Jones, Jr.'s Hermitage Farm, Goshen, has consigned to this summer's Keeneland vendue what might be called a paternal three-quarters sister to Doc Eggers, a filly by *Royal Gem II—Bank Account.

Reno B. Renfrew, a comparatively new breeder, has selected the name Sunnyside Farm for his establishment at Paris.

ENGLAND

*Royal Charger 2-Year-Old

By his victory in the valuable Erroll Stakes, the *Royal Charger colt Gilles de Retz laid substantial claim to be the best juvenile yet seen out.

This was his second victory and he gained it in fluent style for he was never in danger of defeat in the last two furlongs, winning by one length. Bred by his owner, A. G. Sarnel, he comes from a French mare Ma Soeur and is a first foal.

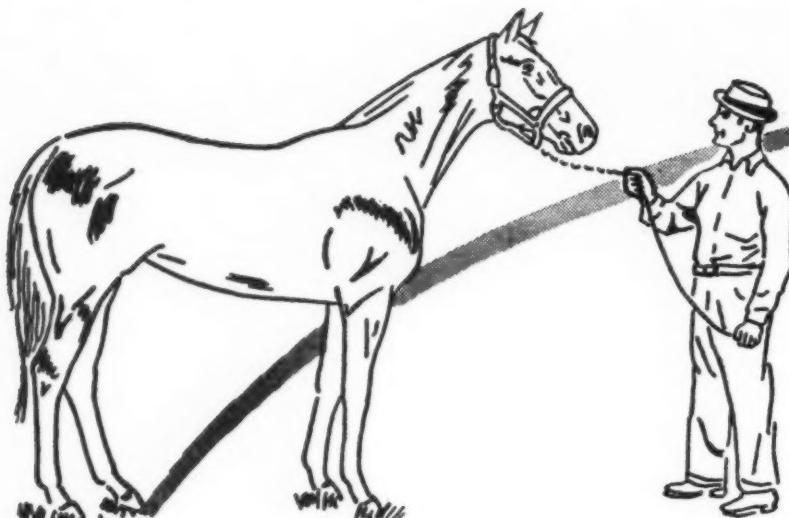

His chief rival for the honour is Lord Milford's unbeaten Honeyway colt Empire Way, who won his third race on the same day when he gave weight all round in the Fenwolf Stakes.

Incidently a heated argument is now raging in the columns of our leading sporting daily paper as to the relative merits of Empire Way and the recent American purchase Mars, when both were at Newmarket. No matter which faction is correct, the latter must be a most useful colt.

Half-sister to *Summer Solstice

A filly who lived up to her home reputation was the grey Molten Lava, for she made a successful debut in a field of 22 recently after being installed a firm favourite. By Krakatao, she is a half-sister to *Summer Solstice, the fastest 2-year-old in Britain last year who has already made good since arriving in the United States by winning a 6 furlong allowance race at Arlington Park recently.

Chagrin Jr.

The climax of the two-day annual Chagrin Valley Hunt Club Junior Horse Show held on the club's beautiful polo field was the crowning of Melinda Lucas as champion of division B (juniors over 13 years of age, when she captured the coveted Lady Grey Trophy. Giving her new horse, Profile, an excellent ride throughout the show, Melinda garnished four blues.

Reserve Champion of the show was Judy Firestone, who was also mounted on a new horse, Uno Fair. Judy, perhaps had the best round of the show in the junior corinthian hunter class which led to the winner's circle and the year's possession of the Glen Upchurch memorial trophy.

In the under 12 years division, Kathy Mattie mounted on her good looking, chestnut, Shooter's Hill, gathered enough points to become champion while Watts Humphrey was reserve champ.

One of the highlights of the show was the junior hound parade when Watts Humphrey dressed in pink coat, acted as huntsman and called into the ring his own personal pack of hounds. Watts sister Margaret and Twink McBride, also attired in formal hunting duds rode as whippers-in.

The amazing resiliency of children was displayed as several of the youngsters took bad spills to the point of doctors' attention but bounced back in later classes with perfect assurance.

A planted or "spy" judge kept a keen eye turned toward the juniors' horseman and sportsmanship throughout the entire show whether in the ring or paddock. Thus the last two classes were the awarding of ribbons to those who in the opinion of the spy judge had scored the highest in many facets of horsemanship. Kathleen O'Neill of Chagrin Falls riding Wisecrack took the older division's first place while Kathy Mattie was winner of the younger.

Loudoun Pony and Jr.

This year for the first time a full pony breeding division was included in the program. All the classes filled well with entries from all the top pony breeding establishments from several states.

In the Shetland division Mrs. C. Smallwood Archer's attractive little grey stud, The Greyhound's Chief went to the top over Miles River Pony Farms two year old stud, Linwood's Ace. An entry of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Canfield by Heatherstone Sensation won the get of sire while L. B. Gutnam's produce of Senorita's Daughter placed first.

Mrs. J. Austin DuPont had a day of it with her Welsh. Her lovely grey stallion, Lisiter Brightlight, by the renowned stud William (Stormy Weather) was pinned Grand Champion of all breeds as well as Welsh Champion. Reserve Welsh champion was Fox Hollow Stables, Fox Hollow Little Dipper who joined up with two more Fox Hollow entries by Whitehall Moving Star to win the get of sire. Mrs. duPont's perfectly matched pair of greys out of Farnley Fairlight won the produce class.

Both Crossbred champion and reserve were by Sylvia's Comet out of Snowstorm. Fox Hollow's Snowstorm II, winning foal, defeated her full brother, Storm Peak, owned by Mr. and Mrs. David Dallas Odell. The Odell's produce of Snowstorm and Get of Sylvia's Comet both won.

Snowball, a consistent white mare, owned by Madge Barclay & Mildred Gaines performed to perfection for the junior award. A three way tie between Allison Duffey's Cravelly, Margaret Stewart's Sudan and Ellie Wood Keith's Persian Moll, was hacked off and the judges nod went to Cravelly.

Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin, Jr.'s lovely chestnut mare, Craven Bantam, with Anne Morgan in the saddle went local champion. Bantam also won the crossbred broodmare class over top entries.

Toni Brewer was in her usual winning style to win her qualifying Maclay class and the A.H.S.A. Medal class while the Jennings sisters Berkeley and Penny placed one-two in the V.H.S. class.

HORSE SHOWS

Fairfield

Two-hundred thirty-four horses representing eleven states competed in the thirty-second annual Fairfield County Hunt Club Horse Show.

Jumpers were again divided into open and green divisions. Most impressive of the two dozen jumpers in the open group were the Volco Stable horses owned by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Coates and ridden by Sonny Brooks. Volco's Duke and Volco's Paleface, ex-Olympic team mounts, tied for the championship after Duke won the Touch and Out and the P. H. A. on Friday and Paleface won one class and placed consistently throughout the show. The championship was given to the younger horse Volco's Duke.

Green conformation hunter entries were light and Shannondale, a big chestnut owned by the Treen Court Stables, ridden by Mrs. Robert Burke, and Peggy Augustus' new black Beseige far outclassed their competitors. Shannondale claimed the tri-color with nineteen and one-half points, while the owner-ridden Beseige finished one point behind him for the reserve award.

In the conformation division the grey Templeton Stable entry was ridden by Mrs. Winston Guest to first place in the Lightweight and the Ladies and the pair picked up an early lead for the championship. A stake class win assured Master Key, owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fruehauf, Jr. and ridden by Mrs. Fruehauf, the reserve ribbon.

There was a tie in the green working hunter division between Joan Draper's Silver Science and Mrs. Frank Craig's War Bride and the two owner-ridden mares had to hack it off. Silver Science won the hack-off despite the fact that she had competed in at least nine junior classes on Saturday. Stake class winner War Bride was reserve champion.

Nauta Mia, the working hunter entry of the Saxon Woods Farm, ridden by Mrs. Robert Schmid, won the middle and heavyweight, the Corinthian and the stake and earned several other ribbons to win the working hunter championship with a score of nineteen points, ten more than his closest rival. Reserve champion working hunter was Anthony del Balso's Savior Faire, who won a leg on the Greenwich, Ox Ridge and Fairfield Challenge Trophy class for working hunters, gentleman to ride, with her owner up.

Harrisburg

The Harrisburg Horse Show, with both a new location and a new sponsor this year, far surpassed last year's show in the number of entries as well as spectators. Held at the Belle-Nance Farm of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bogar, and sponsored by the Harrisburg Academy P. T. O., exhibitors were pleased with the tough outside course and the large new ring, with outstanding obstacle courses for the open jumpers. The weather was warm and sunny but the apple trees offered a shady refuge for exhibitors, spectators, horses and vans.

The working hunter division was dominated by Petey Hull aboard his Chestnut Mare Tar Gal. Petey is a very small, shy boy, not quite twelve years old, who has only been riding for three years, and went on to capture two blues and a white ribbon to gain 11 points and take the Douglas Challenge Trophy for the champion working hunter.

The Gingrich sisters, Polly and Ann, accounted for both the conformation and junior championships as well as the grand hunter championship of the show. Miss Ann Gingrich's Music Maker took the conformation championship.

Miss Polly Gingrich, riding Miss Onyx, captured the new junior championship, and took home the Bogar Perpetual Trophy for the first time. Polly and Ann are the daughters of Dr. Rife Gingrich, of Middletown, Reserve Junior Championship was won by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hackman's Beaver Jacket, Miss Kay Koppenhaver in the irons.

The President's Challenge Trophy for the champion jumper was awarded to Sun Bunny, owned by Willis Frankhouser.

Lachute

Entries were up at Lachute this year and fine weather prevailed throughout the show. The hunter and jumper divisions were keenly contested though the horses did not show quite the form they exhibited at Ormstown perhaps due to the strenuous jumping they did there.

Lillian Stein won the seat and hands class which had many more entries than

Lancaster

The Lancaster Spring Horse Show was notable for its large entry list, more than 250 horses, and its bad weather, which hampered, but failed to halt proceedings.

The hunter divisions were exceptionally well-filled with outstanding performers. There were 26 working hunters, 17 green and 11 conformation hunters.

Topping the conformation division was Mrs. Myron E. Merry's gorgeous Jeraldum, winning the tricolor with 14 points. Betty Jane Baldwin put him in just the right spots to avoid the mud-holes caused by an all-day rain, so his fencing was superb.

Mrs. Hugh M. Barclay's horse, Timber Last, won the Grand Hunter award, although neither a champion nor a reserve champion in any division. He did this by picking up 10 points in the conformation division and four in the green division, equaling Jeraldum's 14. They hacked it off for the Grand award, with the judge's nod going to Timber's Last.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Biddle's nice Cottage Den, with Mrs. Biddle riding, took the working hunter championship. It was also close in the green hunter division, where W. J. Brewster's Pincushion scored 9 points for the championship and Mrs. Ronald McCall's Gala Tennant, eight, for the reserve.

Children's Day drew nearly 50 plucky young riders, who rode in a dismal downpour. Equitation honors, hunting seat, went to Martha Sterbak, in the over 14 years group, and Nancy Lee Cobourn, in the under 14 years class. Nancy's pony, Surprise, also took first in Pony hunters under saddle, 13 hands and under.

Ormstown

As usual, the hunter-jumper division of the Ormstown show was a splendid show with twenty or more entries in all the jumping classes while the hunter division didn't lack for entries either. This show is an indoor one and the quality of the animals matches any of the big name shows of Canada or the United States. The ring is small and the jumps tough and where many such classes spectators find the time long, this never occurs at this show, the competition is too keen, too evenly matched.

The event drawing the most spectator appeal was the triple bar stake, the jump got higher and higher and the horses were finally down to three with Greenfield the entry of Yvette and Pierre Perras taking their jump at 6 feet with an 8 foot spread. The other two horses jumping in this category were Grey Velvet, owned by ABC Farms and Sun Rocket, the Lancaster entry.

ABC Farms Black Velvet once again coppered the jumping stake and Dennis Cote's small little mare Tootsie was the surprise jumper of the show, winning the knock down and out and the performance classes.

Ottawa

This year's show was bigger and better than ever, the entries were large and the attendance up, the weather could not be improved upon. The hunter-jumper division of the show was keenly contested as always. Sun Rocket, owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lancaster was the top performing jumper, while the hunter division was well divided. One accident occurred when Dennis Scully was thrown, he was taken to the hospital. John King, MFH, of Badsworth Hunt, Yorkshire, England, oldest established hunt in England presented the Charles Burnside Trophy to Miss McKibbon, in the Working Hunter event which drew twenty-one entries.

SHOWING*Three Oaks

Betty Jane Baldwin, of West Chester, Pa., had the distinction of bringing home both the champion and the reserve champion in the working hunter division of the big Three Oaks Horse Show at Allentown.

Riding the two horses most of the time during the show, Betty Jane won the tri-color for Jayber, owned by her brother, H. C. (Jiggs) Baldwin III, and the reserve for Brief Mist, of Fox Valley Farms, bought by Fred Mitchell a week before from Mr. and Mrs. Banks H. Talley. Betty Jane shared rides on Jayber with Jiggs, who rode him in handy hunters and one other class.

A most promising horse from western New York invaded the eastern Pennsylvania area in Shannondale, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon M. Smith, Ithaca, N. Y., and ridden by Mrs. Robert Burke. W. J. Brewster's Pincushion, with Jack Goodwin up, winner of the green hunter championship at Lancaster the week before, was reserve at Allentown, with 13 points.

Mrs. Roland McCall's Gallant Pennant, ridden by Kenneth Winchell, was victor in the green working hunter division.

In the children's division, Karen Myrin, of Kimberton Hills Farms, won two firsts with Dotty's Flares. She was first in children's horsemanship, hunter seat, and children's hunter hacks. The ASHA Medal Class, hunting seat, was captured by Patty Worthington, while Joannah Hall was first in the ASPCA horsemanship class, hunter seat.

Bahamian Ponies

Dear Sirs:

Recently, I returned from a trip to the island of Nassau in the Bahamas. I thought you might be interested in hearing about the Bahamian ponies.

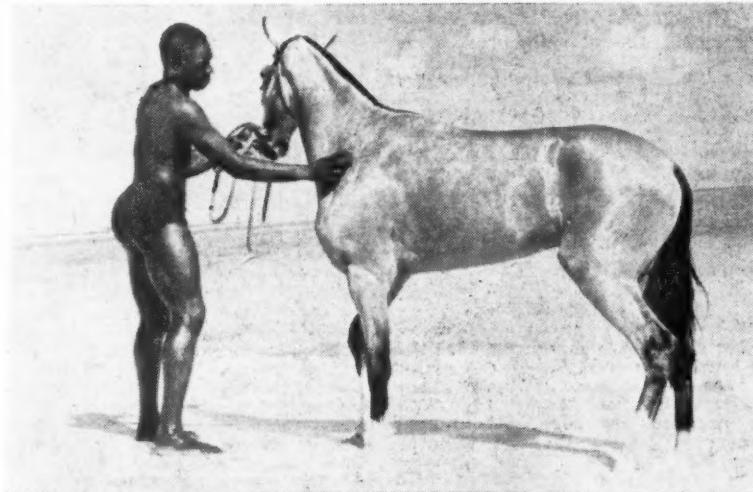

My first contact with any of the native ponies occurred when I hired a horse and buggy to go sightseeing. Having proceeded a few miles, the cabby began to tell me about his horse. He said his pony's name was Carib Boy, and he was a race horse. This, I thought was impossible because Carib Boy was extremely small, wiry and undernourished-looking. By the end of my sightseeing tour, I had bargained with the driver to obtain a riding horse for me the next day. This procedure was a little bit out

The family seemed to take good care of their horses. The stalls were very clean. Each horse had some hay in front of him. I looked into one manger, expecting to find oats, but it was filled to the brim with toasted bread crusts!

A little boy tacked up two horses and helped me get on mine. The tack consisted of a small, flat racing saddle and a snaffle bridle. The leather was beautiful English pigskin, much better than any of our own leather.

The small native boy rode with me and showed me all the roads. My horse was an unusually good ride. He had a fast rambling walk and a nice trot, and a smooth canter. The ponies were almost fearless; jeeps, bicycles and pick-up trucks had no effect on them. But finally, they shied at a pile of rocks in the road. They wheeled and reared a little bit and then started to back up. It felt as if they could travel just as fast backwards as they could forward. Pretty soon a little urging with the stick made them resume walking forward. After about a half-hour, we started home. My pony settled into a slow singlefoot trot. This was the most enjoyable part about the whole ride.

When we got back to the stable, the owner showed me all his trophies. The of the ordinary but the natives, being very congenial, went out of their way to be nice to an American.

So, the next day, bright and early, I started on my jaunt. It was about a half-hour's drive from the hotel to the stable. The cabby wound his way around various lanes and rutted roads until we were in the central part of the island. Finally, he stopped in front of a group of shacks and one house, and informed me that I was now at the stables. As soon as I got out of the buggy, a native family came to welcome me. The father raised and trained the horses, and the rest of the family helped him feed and care for his stock. They showed me their horses, and I discovered that they were exactly the same as the carriage horses. The Bahamian horses are extremely small, usually not more than 14.2 hands-high. They have intelligent-looking heads, but very long, thin necks. Their chests are quite narrow and their backbones are very high. The surprising feature about them is the formation of their legs, which are long and very slim. Their pasterns are also very long and flexible-looking. Their feet are small, well-shaped, hard and oval. They have no shoes.

most recent one was won by the horse I had ridden. His horse had won it at a race at the Hobby Horse Hall race track in Nassau.

All in all, I think that riding a Bahamian racing pony was the highlight of my visit to Nassau!

Sincerely yours,
Nona de St. Aubin

Trip To Britain

Dear Sir:

The letter from my friend Capt. Littauer in your issue for May 13 prompts me to write of my recent trip to Britain, where I was lecturing and showing movies to branches of the Pony Club in England and Wales. I also saw some grand Point-to-Points with as many women riding as men, all amateurs of course, many excellent riders, mostly on blood horses, with up to ten in each race. 2½ miles was the average. I visited many pony and horse studs, including the National Stud, and several Horse Trials and Shows. I judged in the former with that grand teacher of equitation Col. Jack Hance, who is great fun. I was very struck with the turnout and condition of all horses, now that rationing is off.

There are over a million riding ponies in Britain; I suppose the average are around 14 hands. I spent a week in North Wales with Miss Daisy Brodrick at her Coed Coch Stud and saw the best Welsh Mountain Ponies in the world. The Ponies of Britain Club held their first all stallion show at Royal Ascot on April 20, for all the ten native breeds. There were nearly 200 there, all registered, as well as classes for polo ponies, TBs, Arabs and Anglo-Arabs, not exceeding 15h. The limit for the native breeds is 14.2. There were 27 well-filled classes. I met many old friends, experts of the horse world, Messrs. Horace Smith, Reggie Summerhayes, Sam Marsh, Henry Wyumal (the Dressage expert), Col. Mike Ansell and others. I was a guest at the luncheon given by Miss Gladys Yule, the Chairman. Those present were Lord Willingdon, the President, Mrs. Glenda Spooner, the Club Founder, (See Chronicle March 18 and May 6), the Duchess of Rutland, President of the English Palomino Society, Lady Anne Lytton, the Arab breeder and daughter of the famous Lady Wentworth, the Arab breeder.

There are as many coaches-and-four now as ever, all with long tails, (See Chronicle May 20). It was grand to see so many fine horses in the Army still: the Household Cavalry, King's Troop R. H. A. and the R. A. S. C. Pack Sections etc.

R. S. Timmis, Toronto.

Farmington Valley Romps Over Pittsfield

C. W. Kellogg

Farmington Valley continued its domination of Zenas Colt's Pittsfield quartet on June 26 with an 11-3 victory over the Pittsfield (Mass.) club at the Farmington home field. It was the fourth straight win for the Connecticut quartet.

Barclay Robinson, playing as well as ever now though he is in his mid-fifties, was the individual star of the game with three fine goals from his No. 1 position. Once he took the ball from the boards virtually at mid-field, out-raced his pursuers and went the full distance to score on a series of short taps.

Frank Butterworth, another Farmington regular past the 50-year-old mark, led the day's scoring with five goals from the No. 3 position, and Yale coach Al Marenholz got the other three. The veteran Art Mason got two for Pittsfield and Charley Wheeler scored the third.

The game marked the season's debut of Frank Butterworth III, a prep school student at Westminster. The youngster, who has worked out with the Farmington and Yale squads for two seasons, filled in for Robinson in two chukkers.

Farmington now has three wins over Pittsfield on the books as well as the 12-goal team's victory over Phil Iglehart's forces from Westbury.

Warrenton Poloists Edge Out Maryland

Joan Gibbon

The Warrenton Polo Club, in a last half comeback, edged out the Maryland Polo Club by a score of 6-4 at Barnsley Field on June 22.

The first half of the game was mostly dominated by the Maryland team. The opening score of the game was a pony goal in the first chukker in favor of Maryland. In the next two chukkers, Maryland's powerful Frank Willson scored twice, and Fred Kohler scored once. The Warrenton team was unable to break into the scoring column until the second chukker when Bill Gulick tallied. That chukker ended with the score at 3-1 in favor of Maryland. It was in the third chukker that the Warrenton team started to open up. Buzz Rogers split the uprights twice, and John Hopewell added a tally. Frank Willson added his second goal for Maryland, and the half ended in a 4-4 deadlock.

The second half belonged entirely to Warrenton. There was no score in the fourth, but in the fifth, Mrs. Bill Gulick, who was in the lineup for two chukkers, scored what turned out to be the winning goal. Hopewell scored again in the sixth to wrap the game up, even though Maryland fought hard to stave off the loss.

It was a fast, hard fought battle from beginning to end, and it provided the spectators with the usual good brand of polo seen at Barnsley Field in Olney, Md.

Virginians Outscore Washington Squires

Joan Gibbon

The Washington Squires' first loss of the season after seven straight wins was not a tragic one, as they were beaten by a really fine team in six chukkers of superb polo. On Sunday, June 26th, The Virginians won over the Squires by a score of 5-3, at Barnsley Field in Olney, Md.

The Squires' able Captain, Don Bradley, was the only Washington player able to break into the scoring column, though this is not indicative of the type polo played by the rest of the team. Bradley was the first to score in the game, and the Washington fans were all set for another easy win for their team. They soon saw their mistake, as Colonel Harry Wilson, a veteran of high goal Polo, scored twice with long, hard hit balls. The Virginians took the lead at the end of the first chukker, and they never lost it again. The fact that Washington was able to make the game so close, and hold the opposition to five goals was a victory in itself. Needless to say, The Washington Squires will be anxiously awaiting their next meeting with The Virginians.

The game presented to the spectators the finest exhibition of polo ever to be seen at Barnsley Field, and it will be long remembered as such by those who saw it. The loyal Squire fans, though disappointed at their team's first loss of the season, knew that there was no disgrace attached to the loss, and that they had witnessed a game well worth seeing.

All Stars Defeat Brandywine 11 to 4

Bob Gallagher

After a rain out Wed. June 8th, and another on Sunday, June 12th, polo action at Brandywine finally got underway Monday night, June 13th., and sloppy muddy action at that. Never in the history of the Brandywine field near Kennett Square, Pa. have the players rode under conditions such as these. The hidden ball play was in effect a good part of the night . . . hidden so well in the mud that on a few occasions it was lost to both teams and the referee. But despite the conditions Phila. and Chadds Ford fought a see-saw battle with the Forders coming out on top 8-7.

Norm Taylor's five goal contribution for the winners made the big difference in the night's scoring. Phila. rode in for the second chukker trailing 4-1. This was brought about by Taylor scoring twice with Sassone and Yetter contributing one each. However the Philadelphians closed the gap slightly in the second period to make the half time reading 5-3. Philadelphia's King and Phillips each scored once in the third chukker and at the same time, with the aid of team mate Jerry Powell, put up a defense strong enough to hold the Fords scoreless. With the teams deadlocked 5-5 in the final period it became a brand new game until Mike Sassone tallied to put the Fords out in front. King and Phillips duplicated their third chukker scoring but Norm Taylor countered with two more to end the night's scoring and give his team the win. King had a near goal just missing by inches as the game ended, cheating the fans out of a "sudden death" overtime period.

The All Stars topped Brandywine 11-4 in the night-cap. It was Brandywine's fourth straight set-back this season. A commanding 5-1 lead was taken by the All Stars in the first chukker one which they held and added to throughout the game. Billy Mayer's six goals and brilliant team work were responsible for the complete landslide. Mayer's riding mates Ted James and Albie Stewart added two each. This, coupled with a pony goal, completed the All Stars' scoring. Ray Harrington was high man for Brandywine with three goals. Brandywine did not hit its stride until late in the third period, but at that point all the All Stars scoring damage had been done.

Brandywine Club Wins Over New York A. C.

Bob Gallagher

Polo action was at its height and the game played at its best last Wednesday night June 22nd at the Brandywine Field near Kennett Square, Pa. Brandywine turned back the New York A. C. 10-8 in the "night-cap" while Wilmington, a new member club of the Association, topped Chadds Ford 7-5 in the first game.

The Brandywiners displayed their old form and broke a five game losing streak jinx under the expert pacing of Ray Harrington who accounted for five of his team's ten goals. It was Harrington, on a pass from Albie Stewart, who opened the night's scoring after two minutes of play in the first chukker. Followin a nice "ride off" by Herb Pennell, Joe Schwartz scored for the visitors. Then Billy Mayer, playing his usual hard riding game, broke the tie for the Brandywiners. Shortly before the period ended a pony goal was added to the Brandywine score for good measure.

Albie Stewart, who exhibited one of his most brilliant "team work" performances, gave the local trio more security by lofting one in the opening minute of play in the second period. Brandywine continued its well spaced scoring when Harrington took the ball off the boards at mid-field and stayed on it all the way down to push in another tally. With about three minutes remaining in the second stanza the Brandywiners took advantage of a "free shot" with the honors once again going to Harrington. N. Y. A. C.'s Herb Pennell, who missed a few close ones throughout the first two periods, finally found the mark. At half-time the scoreboard read Brandywine 6-N. Y. A. C. 2.

Both teams were consistent in the third period with Brandywine racking up three goals and the New Yorkers countering with one. Two of the most thrilling shots of the game which resulted in scores came in the third chukker. Harrington drove in the first one on an "under the neck" angle shot about thirty five yards out from the goal mouth. Within one minute Billy Mayer duplicated the shot exactly, even to the angle.

In the final chukker the New Yorkers ran wild defensively by holding Brandywine to one goal and offensively by piling up five goals with quick precision from every conceivable angle. Schwartz and Nichols each scored twice, while Pennell contributed one. However the surge came a little too late to overtake the Brandywine club.

Warrenton Defeats Diplomats, 11 to 6

Joan Gibbon

The Warrenton Polo Club won its second straight game at Barnsley field on Wednesday night June 29th, by virtue of an 11-6 win over The Diplomats. Just as in their win over Maryland the previous week, The Warrenton team trailed in the early minutes, and later fought back to gain a commanding lead.

The Diplomats were masters of the situation in the first chukker as they scored three goals and held the Warrenton foursome scoreless. Col. Humphrey Weld accounted for two of the goals, and Jai Atal for one. The second chukker was a complete reversal of the first as Warrenton's Bill Gulick racked up two tallies, and John Hopewell one. It was The Diplomat's turn to be scoreless. Bill Gulick split the uprights in the third chukker to break the deadlock, and the half ended with Warrenton in the lead for the first time.

Warrenton was not to win so easily, however, for The Diplomats went down fighting. They surged back into the lead by scoring three more times after the half time intermission. Col. Weld and Atal each scored a second time, while Col. John Nelson accounted for his first. Warrenton's Mary Gulick tallied their only goal in the fourth, and the chukker ended with a 6-5 edge for The Diplomats. Warrenton began pulling away in the fifth, as Frank Willson, the powerful, long ball hitter from Maryland who substituted for Mary Gulick, scored three times in rapid succession, and John Hopewell added his second of the game. In the sixth and final period Bill Gulick scored two more to put the game on ice for The Warrenton Polo Club.

up to the winner in the final stages. Irish Pageant lasted for third, while Martingle ran a sluggish race to finish fourth beaten about ten lengths for all the money.

The day before trainer Ray Woolfe had better luck when he saddled M. B. Metcalf, Jr.'s *Beau Sir to win an allowance steeplechase. P. T. Chef's eight-year-old mare, Moot set the pace in the race, and cleared the fences with an authority that had the patrons gasping. Ranging up to challenge her approaching the far turn, Albert Foot had an uncomfortable moment at one of his fences when he ran with the mare, but these two locked and ran around the last turn as a team. Moot started to give way approaching the final jump, swerved in behind *Beau Sir and then hung in the run of the flat to finish second about four lengths behind *Beau Sir. It was fifteen lengths back to Jam for third, which swerved repeatedly in the running but appeared to jump better than in some of his recent outings. Conflict finished a distant fourth, after grabbing himself during the running.

The Northwood Hurdles on Friday, July 8th, came up as an "extra" race, and it was designed for maidens. Apparently a fairly evenly matched bunch — and a "good thing" went sour. John M. Schiff's *Coimbra was listed at 10 to 1 early in the betting, then she dropped to 7 to 1, and then just a few minutes of post, quite a little money came in to drop her to 3 to 1 and then 5 to 2. Ten horses went postward in this race, and there was a certain amount of unavoidable interference, particularly around the turns, but *Coimbra got the worse of it, being blocked on the stretches several times, and then finally in the stretch run. Meanwhile, Morpheus had taken the lead and appeared a certain winner until well into the stretch. Jimmy Murphy on Sidney Watters' Carthage, had kept his mount out of the early trouble, carefully worked his way forward, and got to the front over the last hurdle to win with a little bit to spare. Morpheus ran well in the last quarter and was easily the best of the others. *Bois Windsor was third, and might have been closer except for some crowding.

1955 Irish Derby

Philip de-Burgh-O'Brien

After the running of the Irish Derby, June 22, general topic of discussion by the over flow Irish Curragh attendance was "should there have been an objection lodged by the connections of the second horse, Hugh Lopus." Many arguments, both for and against, have been put forward, and it will remain in a controversial subject for many a day in Irish racing circles. My opinion is that the best horse won, but also that the race could easily have been won and lost in the Stewards Room. Significantly, the blue "Allright" Flag was not hoisted for a full twenty minutes after the running of the Derby, despite the fact that no official protest was ever made by either the beaten jockey, R. W. Johnstone, or the owners of the second horse, Major and Lady Ursula Vernon. In my view, their attitude represented sportsmanship of the highest order.

Panaslipper, owned by Joe McGrath and trained by his son, Seamus, won by two lengths from the Irish 2,000 winner, Hugh Lopus, with the rank outsider, Anna's Kuda, in third position,

"It is a matter for the Stewards and for the owners." He afterwards told the Press that he believed that he would have been beaten, although by a much less margin, had the crowding not taken place.

Lady Ursula Vernon and Major Stephen Vernon, owners of Hugh Lopus, appeared to be placed in a quandary. The latter contented himself with remarking, "We do not like to object in such circumstances." In a fast run race — the time 2:37.84, was two seconds faster than that of the Epsom Derby — all the action was confined to the final furlong when first Anna's Kuda, a 100 to 1 chance took the lead, only to relinquish it to Hugh Lopus, which then seemed set for victory.

Showing the same burning finishing speed which almost, but not quite, beat Phil Drake at Epsom, Panaslipper shot through on the inside, then becoming unbalanced sprawled away from the rails, seriously impeding Johnstone on Hugh Lopus at a vital stage. It could have well lost the McGrath color-bearer two further lengths back. The infringement of racing rules, as viewed from the stands, seemed if anything more blatant than was the incident which deprived English owned and trained, Premonition of the 1953 Irish Derby, in that hectic set-to between himself and the locally trained Chamier. The latter was then awarded the race on the subsequent objection by trainer Vincent O'Brien.

(Irish Times Photograph)

The point which caused so much discussion now occurred some 300 yards from the post when Panaslipper challenged on the inside, took the lead, and then appeared to hang heavily on the second, diving away towards the far rails. Rae Johnstone was palpably impeded for more than half a furlong, a fact made obvious by winning rider Jimmy Eddery glancing anxiously over his shoulder after passing the post, well in front.

If an objection was to be made who should make it? Johnstone quickly ducked into the Jockeys Room saying, the race, even though he was the better and faster horse. At the post he was going away from a well beaten field. Taking a line through Phil Drake, his Epsom Derby conqueror, he becomes the second best and second most valuable three-year-old in Europe. Phil Drake subsequently won the Grand Prix, easily.

Aftermath of the Irish Derby was the sale of Panaslipper by Joseph McGrath to the Irish National Stud for 45,000 pounds. He will stand at the Stud's Tully Stable, where he should be a decided asset to Irish breeders. It is not expected that he will race again, but a final decision has yet to be made.

Very powerfully built, this chestnut colt comes from one of the most successful foundation families at the Brownstown stud. He is out of Astrid's daughter Panastrid (Panorama) winner of the Irish 1,000 guineas, in 1945. Astrid (Fair Trial) is out of Ethereal by Ethnarch out of Royal Fancy by Royal Realm from the famous Tillywhim. That a Panorama mare should produce such a stamina-endowed colt has caused considerable surprise in racing and breeding circles. But it tends to show that in breeding, anything is possible—if the back lines and matings, are right.

In the Irish Derby, there were thirteen starters. Hugh Lopus, winner of the Irish 2,000, started an even-money favorite, with Panaslipper at 4 to 1, second favorite. Anna's Kuda, was a 100 to 1 chance. Purse money for the winner, was nearly 7,000 pounds, and the race time, 2:37.84, which is claimed to be a record for the event.

July to nose out the favored Ruhe in the Stars and Stripes. This one was at 1½ miles on the turf.

The Calumet Farm six-year-old collected $16,700 to bring his season's total to $39,100. He has 2 wins in 13 starts.

Jimmy Jones trains the bay horse. Calumet bred him.

Mark-Ye-Well is by Bull Lea, from Mar-Kell, by *Blenheim II.

The race before the Stars and Stripes on Independence Day was the Hyde Park Stakes. This 5½-furlong event was taken by Doc Eggers, a promising two-year-old that won the Primer on June 20.

Flight History, a member of the favored Rice entry, was second, Skeptical Kid was third and Homeplace, fourth.

Doc Eggers paid $10.80 in the mutuels.

By *Royal Gem II—Balla Tryst, by Balladier, Doc Eggers was hanging up his fourth win in five starts. The Hyde Park was worth $14,775, which gives the colt earnings of $30,515.

Breeder E. D. Axtom and Trainer Nick Burger, own the colt in partnership.

W. Carstens was aboard for the Hyde Park.

Detroit

In an upset that paid $54.40 to reckless investors, Thomas F. Devereux' Greatest took the Michigan Mile in record time of 1:36⅔. The son of Equifox nosed out Pelouse, while Platan was a neck farther back in third place. Scent was fourth.

The winners share amounted to $40,525.

Tommy Barrow rode Greatest.

Delaware

The track devoted to exploiting the female of the equine closed its meeting with the Sussex Handicap and there wasn't a filly or mare in the race. There were only four males.

Greentree Stable's white-faced Maharanah was the winner going the mile and one-quarter in 2:02⅔, he beat Lychus by almost a length. Capeador, the choice, was third and Kope's Baby fourth.

Maharajah (*Mahmoud—Bimlette, by Birnelech) earned $19,950, which brings him to $55,075 for 1955. He has won 4 races, including the Macomber Memorial, been scored once and third 3 times in 13 starts.

The gray colt is four years old.

Trained by John Gaver, Maharajah was ridden in the Sussex by Logan Batcheller. Greentree bred him.

ARRIVE AT BURRLAND

The two mares purchased out of the Aga Khan's consignment at Keeneland last fall by Miss Eleanor R. Sears have recently arrived at her Burrland Farm near Middleburg, Va. These are "Usumbara" (Umidwar—Queen of Scots, by Dark Legend) which brought $83,000 and "Rivaz" (Nearco—Mumtaz Begum, by "Blenheim II"), sold for $63,000. "Usumbara" has a brown colt by Nearco and has been bred to Jet Pilot. "Rivaz" has a dark grey filly by Migoli and has been bred to Greek Ship.

PURCHASE AUTHORIZED

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of The Greater New York Association, Inc., held July 7 the Board authorized the purchase of assets, subject to liabilities of Belmont, Aqueduct, Jamaica and Saratoga for an aggregate price of approximately $32,000,000. This would represent a net cost of about $20,000,000 after eliminating inter-company holdings and the excess of current assets over current liabilities.

Such purchase will be subject to the approval of the New York State Racing Commission, a suitable tax ruling and other appropriate conditions.

COMMUNITY INTEREST

The Santa Cruz Horsemen's Association is striving to make its annual horse show of increasing interest to the community by keeping it on a high sporting level and making it attractive to our large group of amateurs who are not interested in the "show business" aspects of the big shows. Working on the premise that community participation also creates community interest, the Association this year inaugurated an art competition among the school children. Subject was "The Horse," treatment and medium to be selected by the participant. Four divisions were made: high school, junior high, fourth through sixth grades, and first through third grades. Hundreds of entries were received and members of the Santa Cruz Art League were asked to judge the work. They selected the winners in each division, plus a sweepstakes best-in-show winner, and these were hung on the outside of the clubhouse wall under a canvas protection. Announcement of awards and pinning of ribbons was not done until the second day of the horse show, thereby creating additional suspense and interest. The sweepstakes winner's watercolor will appear on the cover of next year's program.

H. F.

One of the highlights of the Santa Cruz Horse Show was a sight seldom seen—the judge, Mr. Hans Moeller—who, incidentally, has judged internationally—gave a riding exhibition and held spellbound the crowd of cowboys, gaited enthusiasts, Olympic event appreciators and laymen alike for fifteen minutes. His ride was nothing more than an example of the type of daily riding he does in giving basic training to his mount. But the beauty of his quiet seat and hands, effective but invisible aids with no whip nor spurs, and the calm attitude of the horse, moving with rhythm and impulsion, were a revelation to the beholders.

WELSH IMPORTER

Robert D. Goodrich, millionaire oil man, rancher and philanthropist, recently returned from a quick air trip to England. While overseas, Goodrich purchased some top Welsh ponies for his Lampasas ranch, originally the home of his quarter stock.

The ponies, including 7 mares, two foals and two top stallions, are scheduled to leave England for the United States later this month, and shipping arrangements are being attended to in England by the British Bloodstock Agency, and here by the Fasig-Tipton Company's brokers. These ponies are believed to be the first Welsh ponies ever intended for the Southwest, and while Goodrich has not released his program for the foreigners, it is believed he will try to establish the breed in the Southwest.

ACCEPT INVITATIONS

The Genesee Valley Breeders Association announced recently that they were pleased to have C. M. Greer and J. L. Wiley accept their invitations to judge the annual colt show in Sept. Many new mares have come into the Valley and the breeding program has increased greatly in the past two years, which should prove good for the entry list.

WINNER FOR BLACK TARQUIN IN ENGLAND

Black Tarquin left the States only in 1954 to take up his duties in Ireland and so has not yet had any foals bred on the other side of the Atlantic which are old enough to race in Great Britain.

But the American-foaled Dark Helen was a winner for him at Newmarket where she beat six opponents over 1 1/4 miles. The property of Lord Astor, she won easily by 1 1/2 lengths and did something to redeem her reputation after a series of close defeats.

Dam of Dark Helen is the *Blenheim II mare Helen of Paris.

GIRL JOCKEY

Girl jockeys rode in a special race last month, in France and there may soon be more French races open to British, French, Belgian and Italian horsewomen. A few years ago the British Jockey Club was pressed to grant licenses to girls to compete as professional jockeys in all flat races. The ruling body saw too many obstacles to entertain the innovation. It was admitted by some members of the Jockey Club, (and prominent trainers agreed with them), that girls might have better hands on two-year-olds, and horses requiring special tact, than many of the boys riding. But the difficulties of discipline, separate dressing-rooms, women valets, and so on, were such that the applications never had serious consideration.

The name of only one lady jockey figures in the English Racing Calendar—that of Mrs. Thompson, the lady of Col. Thompson, a famous sportsman, who lived near Knaresborough. She rode in two matches at York in 1804 and 1805, and her appearance in racing colours attracted the biggest crowd seen at Knaresborough up to that time.

BOW OUT

Millarde Farms, Annville, bowed itself out of the show ring in a blaze of glory at the Lancaster (Pa.) Horse Show when Injin Joe won the jumper championship with 22 points, largest point score ever racked up at the Lancaster Show.

Injin, ridden by Pat Dixon, led the reserve Champion, Bedford, by 14 points.

This was their last show of the season, for they are retiring from the show ring, at least temporarily. Bedford, which

Nini Colmore Paints Cowdray Park Ponies

WEREWOLF—English. By Thoroughfare. (2nd in the Derby) ex Miss Destiny (she played 1939 International at Meadow Brook). Bred by Lord Cowdray. Played all internationals under Gerald Balding, never sick or sorry in seven seasons, a "real'un." Stands 16 hands!

SWEETHEART—Texas. Played by Cecil Smith, California, before coming here to me. Liver chestnuts, she and "Werewolf" are peas out of the same pod. She unquestionably has some Quarter Horse in her but is more Thoroughbred. I've never been out-run, out handled on her by Argentines, French, Spanish or Americans. She's brilliant all the way.

MISS BINNEY—Texas. A real cow pony—Thoroughbred cross. Tough, tops, a mind of her own. Cecil Smith played her three Opens before she came over here. At one point Gerald Balding and I being short of ponies at Roehampton, played she and Lady Gail three periods out of five each in a tough final! Both Gerald and I are big and heavy. The ponies never looked bad at the pace or weight or duty!

they had owned since August 1953, winning nine championships with him in 1954, was sold a few days before the Lancaster Show to Irl A. Daffin Stables, managed by Joe Green. Joe rode the big black gelding for a year when he was owned by the late Harry Ryan, from whom he was bought.

Real McCoy was also sold just before the Devon show to a Baltimore owner, leaving Injun as the only veteran horse. But there are young 'uns in the stable.

The rest of the season Millarden Farms will show only ponies, Limelight and Black Pepper, which are being ridden by Kathryn, seven, and Jacqueline Williams, five, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest D. Williams, Jr.

During the nine years that Pat Dixon has trained and ridden Millarden Farms' horses, it has emerged as one of the leading stables of the country. In 1951 they won 15 championships. Their most famous horse is All Afire, which during his day won 28 championships, 10 reserves and 129 blue ribbons. He was retired in 1953, and now at 22 years of age is finishing his days in clover.

Harry M. Williams, 27-year-old owner of Millarden Farms stables, has embarked on a new venture, and has become a TV and movie actor. He will play in summer stock this season, it was learned. And he should have plenty of success, for no one would deny that he is one of the handsomest young guys you could wish to see. —M.L.S.

ABOUT JENNETS

A friend of mine has been back in his native Ireland among the Connemara ponies of which he and his wife are enthusiasts. He writes to me:

"What is the difference between a jennet and a mule? I always thought a mule was the cross between a donkey and a mare, and a jennet a horse and donkey cross. However, a cousin in Ireland, who has a jennet, argues that it is a matter of hoof—that a mule has a donkey's foot, and a jennet has a horse's foot and frog. What is your judgement?

A jennet, Genet, or 'hinny' is the offspring of a horse sire and female ass, and the description jennet is given regardless of foot conformation. A mule is the progeny of a 'jack' ass and female horse. The mule cannot reproduce his own species.

There was, however, a distinct breed of small Spanish horses, known as Jennets. These had no ass blood. They were closely allied to the Barbs. Indeed, the earliest English dictionaries define them as 'Spanish or Barbary mares', no reference being made to a donkey cross.

Prospero d'Osma in 1579 scheduled the horses in the Royal Tutbury and Malmesbury Studs as cavalry chargers (coursers), and Jennets (small coursers, or amblers). At Hampton Court also there were 'Spanish Jennets and Barbares'.

Bishop Hall (born 1574), evidently knew something of the estimate in which jennets were held in his day in Turf circles, for he asks:
